Worldwide Personal Portfolio

Lump Sum Contribution Contract

HANSARD
WORLDWIDE

This document is provided in addition to, and does not replace, the Contract Terms and Conditions and Schedule One.

What is this product?

Worldwide Personal Portfolio is a unit-linked insurance contract that allows for the investment of lump-sum contributions.

Objective

The aim of the contract is to benefit from the potential medium- to long-term increase of the value of your savings by investing the contributions you make into a wide range of assets provided and administered by Hansard International Limited ("Hansard International"), or by external investment managers, or into a discretionary managed account.

After deduction of any applicable fees and charges, the overall value of your contract will be determined by the performance of the assets that you select.

Who should invest?

Worldwide Personal Portfolio is suitable for clients aged 18 years or older who have a lump-sum to invest over the medium- to long-term to achieve a financial goal.

The contract is intended to suit internationally-minded clients. It is not tied to your current country, and it gives you access to a very broad range of international investment options in various currencies, enabling you to build a flexible portfolio of assets to meet your current and future needs. This has a higher element of risk associated with it, but offers the potential for greater returns than may otherwise be available to you.

Product type

The contract can be set up as either a life assurance or capital redemption contract and this will determine what benefits are payable upon death. This cannot be changed later. Please refer to our 'Product Types Explained' (HWL101) for more details.

Life assurance contracts must have at least one life assured and may have a second. These cannot be changed once your contract has started. The death benefit will become payable when the life assured dies (or for joint lives assured, either the first death for joint-life first-death or the second if it is joint-life last-survivor) and at this point the contract will end.

The standard death benefit sum assured is 101% of the contract value, but this will be reduced to 101% of the surrender value if the life assured is more than 75 years old (or for a joint-life first-death contract if either of the lives assured is more than 75 years old, or for a joint-life last-survivor contract if both of the lives assured are more than 75 years old) on the commencement date.

A life assurance contract does not have a fixed term – it will continue for as long as the lives assured are alive, or until the contract is surrendered.

Capital redemption contracts have no lives assured but have a fixed term of 99 years. On the death of the contract holder(s), ownership passes to the contract holder's personal representatives or beneficiaries and the contract continues for the remainder of the original term, or until it is surrendered.

Making Contributions

You must start your contract with a lump-sum contribution which may be a cash contribution by bank transfer, or by transferring assets that you already hold in specie into your new contract, or a combination of the two. You may make additional contributions at any time. Different minimum contribution levels apply depending on the charge option selected.

For further details about the features available within Worldwide Personal Portfolio, including further information about the range of assets available and the contribution limits, please refer to the Worldwide Personal Portfolio Prospectus.

Could I lose money?

Worldwide Personal Portfolio does not have any guarantee or capital protection included, and you may not get back the full amount of the contributions you pay. The investment options available within this contract have different degrees of risk, and therefore volatility. Their values may change significantly on a daily basis.

Hansard Worldwide Limited does not have a policyholder compensation scheme. Assets held within Worldwide Personal Portfolio, including investments made into the Hansard unit funds, are not eligible to take advantage of any investor compensation scheme or any depositor's compensation scheme.

You may cancel your contract without penalty during the cooling off period (see the 'Cancellation rights' section overleaf) but you may still suffer a loss if the contract value has fallen.

What are the risks and what might I get back?

Your independent financial advisor can provide you with a personalised risk profile and illustration. These demonstrate the impact of contract charges and potential growth depending on your risk appetite. For further details of the risks involved, please refer to the Worldwide Personal Portfolio Prospectus.

Change of circumstances: If your circumstances change then this may mean that you need to withdraw money from your contract, or need to surrender your contract early. There may be contract restrictions that prevent you from taking money when you need, and can result in the risk of you getting back less than you have contributed.

Advice risk: Your independent financial advisor is acting on your behalf, and has recommended Worldwide Personal Portfolio based on their analysis and understanding of your financial circumstances and future needs. If you have not provided all of the necessary information to your independent financial advisor, or if their analysis does not match your expectations then there is a risk that this product may not be suitable for you.

Risk-reward profile: In exchange for a higher degree of risk, Worldwide Personal Portfolio provides the opportunity for potentially higher returns than may otherwise be available to you. You must be prepared to accept the risk that you may not get back as much as you have contributed.

Investment risk: The investment options available for this product have different features and risk profiles. The level of risk and potential investment performance will depend on the assets you choose. You should ensure that you are aware of the risks and read the relevant fund literature. It is your responsibility, in conjunction with your fund advisor, to select the most appropriate assets to match your risk profile.

Currency risk: You may be exposed to a currency risk if your contract, contributions or assets are denominated in a different currency than the one in which you plan to realise the future benefit from your contract.

Counterparty risk: Your contract is with Hansard Worldwide Limited and is reinsured with Hansard International. You may be exposed to counterparty risks that include, but are not limited to, the continued provision of services by Hansard International, the valuation of your contract, and the ability to withdraw money from your investment.

How long should I hold it and can I take money out early?

Worldwide Personal Portfolio is designed to be a medium- to long-term investment, and depending on the charging option selected there may be additional charges applied if the contract is terminated early.

It is important to note that if you take withdrawals or if you surrender your contract during a charging period, then this could result in you getting back less than the illustrated fund value and possibly less than the total amount you have contributed.

Cancellation rights

If you change your mind once your new contract starts, there is a cancellation period during which time you may cancel the contract without penalty. When we issue the documents for your new contract, we will send you details of how to cancel your contract, and you will have 30 calendar days from receiving these documents to request this. You may also cancel before you receive your contract documents by contacting us or your independent financial advisor.

If you do decide to cancel, we will give you your money back, unless the value of the assets you have invested in has fallen, in which case you will get back the value available at that time which may not be the full amount you paid in. No contract charges or penalties will be deducted, however, any administration costs associated with each asset, such as dealing charges or entry and exit fees, will still apply.

These cancellation rights also apply to any additional contributions that you may make, effective from the date each contribution is allocated.
